

Project-based learning
Geography homework

In Geography, we have been learning about different weather types.

Your task is to create a weather diary on the different weathers you will experience over the week.

Challenge: Can you write down the time of day for when you experienced these weathers?

WEATHER

Extension: Write down how you will protect yourself from these weather types. What will you wear? Where will you stay? Why might they be safe or dangerous for you?

