

The tombs of the great kings and nobles of Egypt were built to safeguard the corpse and possessions of the deceased for eternity and yet, while many have endured for thousands of years, their contents often disappeared relatively quickly. Tomb robbing in ancient Egypt was recognised as a serious problem. The burial chamber was purposefully located, and the chambers and hallways of the tomb filled with debris, to prevent theft, but even so, the tomb was broken into and looted.

Samir was an opportunist, he looked for small gems, which could be taken easily so that no one could notice, he used the money he made from selling them to feed his family. One evening, while tomb raiding, he found a spectacular emerald green ornament, it lured him to it, as soon as he picked it up his fingers tingled, he knew from that moment that this was special and would fetch an enormous price. As soon as morning came, off he headed to the markets, and as soon as the sun's rays touched the ornament, it started to glow...

Complete the story above, focus on including:

- 2 relative clauses for extra information e.g. The emerald ornament, which he clasped tightly in his hands, was glowing in the sun. Remember to use a relative pronoun, who, whose, whome, that, which, where.
- creating atmosphere and dialogue to advance the action and characters. (remember: short snappy sentences moves the action along faster)
